

Lochaerie Resort

Private Cabins in Olympic National Park on Lake Quinault.
638 N. Shore Rd, Amanda Park, WA 98526

S. Shore Rd. Hikes

Fletcher Creek a short hike (2 miles) from the bridge that connects North Shore Rd. and S. Shore Rd into a loop. Very pretty scenery including Bunch Falls.

World's Largest Sitka Spruce – (.2 miles from Rainforest Resort) Drive or walk to see this record breaking tree. It is 191 feet high and 55 feet 7 inches around.

Quinault National Trail System – easy to follow trails that begin near Lake Quinault Lodge, includes several interpretive loop trails that are great for children.

Quinault Tribal Fish Hatchery

Owned by Quinault Indian Reservation off S. Shore Rd.

Graves Creek Nature Trail – (1 mile loop) this trail begins at the Graves Creek campground (at the end of S. Shore Rd.) and meanders near the East Fork of Quinault River.

Experienced hikers may choose to follow Graves Creek to the Pony Bridge Hike and explore the backcountry wilderness of the Olympic National Park. Or to follow the South Shore Rd. to Col. Bob Trail – a strenuous round trip hike to Col. Bob is about 8.25 miles. The views of Lake Quinault and other mountain peaks of the Olympics are spectacular.

This is a strenuous hike, so prepare for weather. You will want to bring a topo map, food, and plenty of water. The trail is rocky and steep (a 3,300 feet climb from the trail head).